

Fiber optic cable ATB

Overview

An Access Terminal Box (ATB), also known as a fiber access socket or fiber pizza box, is an indoor optical connection device used to link fiber drop cables with the optical distribution network (ODN). It integrates a splice tray, pre-terminated drop cables (1, 2, 4, or 8 fibers), fiber patch cords. An access terminal box (ATB) is used to connect drop cables and passive ONU devices. It is installed on indoor walls to provide fiber sockets. The ATB3101 supports fusion splicing, mechanical splicing, and FA connectors. The ATB essentially serves three key functions: Protection: The box safeguards the delicate. The Fiber ATB comes fully loaded with pigtailed and adapters—usually SC/APC or SC/UPC—as per your network requirements. With its minimal footprint and low-profile design, the ATB is suitable for tight.
